SENIOR CLASS—1914

Mary Allen Seminary

THIS institution for colored girls is twenty-seven years old. It was named in honor of Mrs. Mary E. Allen, the wife of the Rev. Richard Allen, D. D., a former Secretary of the Board of Missions for Freedmen of the Presbyterian Church U. S. A., whose interest in the welfare of the Freedmen inspired her to plan the establishment of this institution in Texas. Although she lived to see only the beginning of the work, yet her cherished desire came to fulfilment thru the execution by other hands of the building now known as the Mary Allen Building. Later a second building was added thru the generosity of the Hon. James McMillan, of Detroit, Mich., and was named in memory of a beloved daughter, Grace McMillan Hall.

The aim of the school has been to furnish the most thorogoing, solid education. And the reputation it has earned thru the lives of those who have gone forth from its halls to occupy places of usefulness and influence in church and society among the colored people is evidence of the accomplishment of that aim.

Not only does Mary Allen Seminary furnish an education in such branches of study as are pursued in the higher institutions of learning, but it affords training in domestic duties and science, in some industrial occupations, and above all in morals and religion. Its great purpose is to cultivate mind, heart and hand, and to fit those who come under its influence to become model wives, mothers, home-makers, members of society and leaders of their race.

McMillan Hall, which was burned January 13, 1912, has been rebuilt, and was occupied in the fall of 1912. The building is furnished with steam heat and electricity.

COURSES OF STUDY.

I. Preparatory Department.

In this, students are thoroughly trained in all the elementary studies, and prepared to enter the higher courses of the seminary. No student is allowed to pass beyond this until thoroughly prepared to make the advance.

II. Teachers' Course.

This is designed for those who purpose to teach in the common schools of the State, and is limited to the study of those subjects upon which teachers are required to be examined by County Boards or Superintendents.

III. Seminary Course.

This is intended to give a thoroughly practical and extended course of study, equal to that of the best schools.

IV. MUSICAL DEPARTMENT.

Vocal Music.

All students have class lessons in sight singing. Especial attention is given to the forming of pure tones. Private rehearsing is given for solos, two, three and four-part music for public entertainments throughout the school year. Individual instruction is given in vocal music at a reasonable rate.

Piano Instruction.

The course of study in this department includes technical exercises and study, together with pieces appropriate for home and concert playing. The instruction is individual, the effort on the part of the teacher being to adapt the work to the personal needs of each student.

Harmonium or Cabinet Organ.

Care has been taken in arranging the course of study for this instrument to give the student a knowledge of the best organ music.

Recitals are held for the benefit of the students, in which they are required to take part, and they will appear in the public exercises of the school when qualified.

A carefully selected library of standard music, consisting of technical studies by the most celebrated authors, has already been formed, and additions are constantly made to it. These musical compositions are all open to students for study and practice on payment of a small fee, which is used to make additions to the musical library. The student is thus saved great expense in not having to purchase expensive instruction books and pieces for practice.

Students who take up instrumental music are required to continue it during the entire term. Payment is required half-yearly in advance.

V. Sewing and Millinery Department.

In this are taught sewing, knitting, cutting and fitting, dressmaking, patching, darning, mending, and useful fancy needlework. The classes meet daily for practical instruction in this work. The students make many articles of their own clothing while in the Seminary. Thorough instruction is given in all branches of millinery to those who desire it.

VI. Shoemaking and Repairing.

To those who wish, thorough instruction is given in this useful occupation, which can be carried on in the home with very small expense. Students taking this course are required to purchase at cost from the Seminary a shoe-making outfit, including sufficient leather to begin work at home. The expense of this outfit is but three dollars.

VII. Cane-Seating Chairs.

Training in this useful trade is given to any who may wish to learn.

VIII. General House Training.

The general house-work is done by the students, but is so arranged as not to hinder the ordinary duties of the pupils. This training is most important, for it fits our girls to take charge of a home, and makes them skillful in its duties. If any are unwilling to do the alloted work, they should not come.

IX. New Courses.

Bookkeeping and agriculture have been added to the curriculum.

X. Religion and Morals.

The great purpose of the Seminary is to train its pupils in the principles and practices of true religion and sound morality. Daily recitations in the Bible are held throughout the entire course. The students are carefully guarded from all that could lead them astray. No one whose influence or example is evil will be allowed to remain in the school. Parents may feel assured everything possible is done to keep their daughters safe while here.

LOCATION.

Mary Allen Seminary is located at Crockett, Houston County, Texas, on the International and Great Northern Railroad. The location of the Seminary is the highest in the county, and the most healthy in Eastern Texas.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE.

As the home of the future depends on the girls of the present, we realize the necessity of a practical course in Cookery. Of such a course the following is an Outline of Study.

The Home Beautiful:

First—The Kitchen.

1. Its Equipment, Ventilation, Care of Utensils, Care of Foods.

2. Foods: Classified, food value, method and principles of cooking (1) meats, (2) cereals, (3) eggs, (4) vegetables, (5) soups, (6) sauces, (7) breads: (a) doughs, (b) pastry, (c) plain; (8) desserts: (a) cake, (b) puddings, (c) creams; (9) salads, (10) beverages, (11) sandwiches.

3. Invalid Cookery.

4. Milk: (a) composition, (b) care, (c) butter making.

Second—Dining Room: (a) Furnishings, (b) Table-setting, (c) serving.

Third—The Bedroom: (a) Furnishings, (b) Care.

EXPENSES.

1. Through the generosity of the Presbyterian Church U. S. A., the expenses are reduced to the lowest point. Tuition is free to boarders.

2. The charge for board, room, fuel and light is $8.00 per month of four weeks, in advance. An incidental fee of $1.00, and $1.00 for laundry materials is also charged. Total expense, sixty-six dollars.

3. Payments are to be made at the beginning of each four weeks, as follows:

Oct. 8, 1914, $10.00, including the incidental and laundry fees, for the month ending November 4.

Nov. 4, $8.00 for the month ending Dec. 2.

Dec. 2, $8.00 for the month ending Dec. 30.

Dec. 30, $8.00 for the month ending Jan. 28.

Jan. 28, 1915, $8.00 for the month ending Feb. 25.

Feb. 25, $8.00 for the month ending Mar. 25.

Mar. 25, $8.00 for the month ending Apr. 22.

Apr. 22, $8.00 for the month ending May 20.

If payments are not made within ten days of the date when due, it may be sufficient cause for dismissal.

4. No reduction in fees will be made for absence of less than one week, nor for absence during the first or last week of the term.

5. Day students pay $1.00 per month, and no reduction is made for absence less than a month.

6. Students must be prepared to pay for their books at the beginning of the term. From three to five dollars will be required.

7. They should also be supplied with a little money for pencils, tablets, writing paper, envelopes, postage etc.

8. In accordance with the rule which prevails in other schools, the trunk and books of any girl may be held till her dues are paid.

9. If any visitor to the students stays more than two days a charge will be made of one dollar a day.

10. If one enters at any time other than at the beginning of the school month, the fee will be reckoned to the beginning of the next school month, when payments thereafter must be made according to the schedule.

MUSICAL INSTRUCTION.

Only those who pay full rates are allowed to take music.

Piano instruction is $25.00 per session; $12.50 payable in advance, for each half of the session.

Organ instruction is $15.00; $7.50 payable in advance for each half of the session.

Individual vocal instruction is $15.00.

In case a student leaves the Seminary for any reason that in the judgment of the President is insufficient, no money will be refunded; but such student may have the benefit of the payment by returning to the Seminary during the same term in which the money was paid.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

Several full scholarships and a number of partial scholarships are at the disposal of the Seminary. They will be given: 1, to those who are earnest and diligent, and show marked ability; 2, to those who are pursuing a graduating course; 3, to those who are already students in the Seminary and have proved their worthiness; 4, to those who may be received on trial and afterwards measure up to the requirements in moral character and mental ability. A full scholarship applies on the expense of board, but nothing more. One who receives it is required to pay $10.00 for the session.

Please to take Notice.—The Seminary cannot loan money to students to pay traveling expenses home. Money must be sent for this purpose, or the ticket agent must telegraph order for railway ticket.

All express packages and telegrams to students must be prepaid.

ADMISSION AND PROMOTION.

All who come well recommended for good moral character, for diligence in study, and who can promptly meet the expenses of boarding, will be received as long as there is room. No new student who is not personally known to the Faculty can be received into the Seminary without a recommendation for good moral character, given by some responsible person.

Students who are in poor health, or especially delicate, cannot be received.

As a rule, none will be received who are under 14 years of age.

Applicants will be required to pass a satisfactory examination before entering any grade. Those not prepared for the work of the first year of the regular course should not come.

No pupil will be permitted to take studies outside of her regular grade, or fewer than five studies without music, or more than four with music, except by special permission.

Special arrangements will be made for such as wish to make a specialty of sewing or housework.

No pupil who fails in two studies will be passed to a higher grade. The grade for promotion is 75 per cent. Examination papers must be neat in appearance, the sentences properly punctuated, and the words correctly spelled.

GENERAL RULES.

Prompt and cheerful obedience to all rules and requirements of the school.

Prompt and faithful performance of all duty assigned.

Attendance upon all religious exercises of the Sabbath and through the week, unless excused.

Visitors are welcome at any time during the term, but not to come or go on the Sabbath.

THINGS FORBIDDEN.

All extravagance in dress.

All unbecoming conduct.

All noisy or rude conduct.

Borrowing books, clothing or money.

Contradicting or disputing with teachers.

All correspondence with gentlemen, except with parents and brothers, unless by written request of parents.

It is positively forbidden to send eatables to students while in the Seminary. No more Christmas boxes, as they tend to dissatisfaction, sickness, and neglect of school work. If boxes are sent, they will be returned.

THINGS REQUIRED.

Plain, neat and tasteful dressing is required. Expensive dresses are not allowed. Each pupil must be furnished with a coarse dress and large aprons for domestic work. Every article of clothing must be plainly marked with the owner's name.

Each one is to have a uniform consisting of a navy blue serge skirt, and a white waist, which is to be worn on Sundays and special occasions. The skirts, in order to be uniform, will be made here, at a reasonable price.

No white dresses nor white skirts are to be worn, for the reason that these greatly increase the work of washing. For the graduating exercises only plain white dresses are to be worn, and these are to be made by the students themselves, under the direction of the sewing teacher.

In case new clothing is needed, the goods for this should be sent, and these will be made up by the students themselves under the direction of the sewing teacher, without expense to parents or students. In this way our students learn practical dressmaking.

Shoes should not be sent from home, as in most cases they fail to fit, and have to be returned at expense or sold at sacrifice. The money should be sent instead, as shoes can be bought more cheaply by the lady in charge of the Sewing Department at the Seminary.

Each student is required to bring with her a comb, brush, tooth brush, needles and pins, three sheets, one pair of pillow slips, table napkins and towels for her own use, waterproof wraps and rubber overshoes.

Every student must be vaccinated before coming to the Seminary; and must also have her teeth put in good condition by a dentist, or be furnished with money to meet such expense.

All students are requested to notify the President when they expect to arrive at the Seminary.

Every application for admission must contain the name of the student.

No student will be received who is in arrears.

No student will be allowed to graduate who is in arrears.

An omnibus brings students from the station for 25 cents.

Trunk checks should be given to the President.

RHETORICAL WORK.

Three Literary Societies have been organized, viz: The Margaret P. Bolles L. S., the Harriet Beecher Stowe L. S., and the Louisa M. Alcott L. S. These give opportunity for literary and rhetorical work, as well as training in parliamentary rules and usages. They are under the care of the teacher.

Meetings of the societies are held once in four weeks, and all members of the school are expected to take part unless excused.

LIBRARY.

An excellent foundation for our library was had in the valuable donation of books of Rev. R. H. Allen, D. D. In addition to this, he gave a valuable collection of curios and relics gathered by Mrs. Allen, after whom the Seminary is named. The Otis Memorial Library is a valuable gift from Mrs. Edwin G. Benedict, of Cleveland, Ohio. This lady has since made many valuable additions to the library. The gift of Miss Haskell has been expended in the purchase of books.

CALENDAR.

The next term begins Thursday, October 8, 1914, and closes Wednesday, May 19, 1915.

Commencement exercises will take place on Wednesday, May 19, 1915.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

It is highly important that every pupil be in school on the first day of the term, and that a place in the school be engaged as early as possible. A place should not be engaged unless the student certainly expects to come; no room reserved beyond a week.

It is not desirable to receive pupils after the holidays. Those applying then will only be admitted by special arrangements.

All communications concerning admission of students, or other business of the Seminary, should be addressed to

PRESIDENT MARY ALLEN SEMINARY,
Crockett, Texas.
